WORK EXPERIENCE

Sr Web Developer

GSW - August 2015 to Present

GSW is an advertising agency that works with several pharmaceutical companies. Ken works with the highest profile brands and clients the agency represents to help them build cutting edge websites.

Crafted an Angular based image gallery for Lilly Oncology On Canvas (<http://looc.lillyoncology.com/>) to showcase thousands of art pieces created by cancer patients.

Developed a data driven single page web application for the Lilly Oncology Pipeline (<http://lillyoncologypipeline.com>) which included a powerful real-time search.

Wrote a Node based javascript tool to automate screen shots required for legal submission which saved thousands of developer hours

Rebuilt lillyglucagon.com to have a responsive design which increased engagement by 60%.

Web Developer

Amazon - April 2013 to August 2015

At Amazon, Ken was an integral part of the Amazon Appstore team. He learned hands on how to fully utilize AWS and deliver web experiences at scale.

Lead web development for developer.amazon.com.

Gave presentations at internal conferences in Seattle and London advocating better web development practices.

Helped internationalize the Amazon Appstore's presence on amazon.com.

Web Developer

Blackboard - April 2012 to April 2013

At Blackboard Ken worked on Coursesites, a MOOC platform.

Built an interactive registration workflow that is still used to this day.

Developer

The Learning Egg - December 2010 to April 2012

Was the primary UI and back-end developer during the launch phase of the business.

Built a PHP backend for the web application using Yii and MySQL

Designed and developed most of the UI during the early stages

Built a graphing library that is still in use.

Web Developer

Forethought Labs - July 2009 to September 2010

Built the most popular student organizer for the Palm Pre as a web based application

My first programming experience, but made $7,000 and have been hooked ever since.
